

POLICE AT LOSS FOR CLUE IN 2 MURDERS

Fail to Connect Stilo With Slaying of Peppe and Another in Coffee House.

BOOTLEGGGER A VICTIM
Pursued, He Kills Stranger While Returning His Assailant's Fire.

PRISONER HAS AN ALIBI
Held for Hearing Oct. 18, but Detectives Say He Was Not Near Scene of Crime.

Although the detectives of the Italian squad are convinced that a quarrel between bootleggers led to the killing of Joseph Versata, better known as Joseph Peppe, and Louis Rango in a coffee house at 267 Broome street on Thursday, they admitted last night that nothing which has been turned up so far in their investigation of the case is likely to lead them to the persons who planned and executed the murder. Peppe, described as a bootlegger in a large way of business, was killed by some one who pursued him into the coffee room from the street. In returning his assailant's fire Peppe killed Rango, who was a stranger to him and had nothing to do with the fight.

Ankale Stilo of 339 Degraw street, Brooklyn, arrested after the shooting, was held without bail in the Tombs Court yesterday, but the police have not been able to connect him with the murder of Peppe.

He admits that he telephoned to the place where Peppe was killed twenty minutes after the shooting and asked if Peppe was dead. He insists that he did so because he had heard that he had been killed and wanted to verify the report. When he was asked who told him of the shooting he said that he heard two strangers speak of it while he was passing them in the street. One of them, he said, told the other that he had just heard it over the telephone.

Detective Sergeant Planchetti, who is in charge of the investigation, is certain that Stilo was not present when Peppe was shot, because the man telephoned to the coffee room in Broome street from Brooklyn so soon after the shooting that he could not have witnessed it. The cull from Brooklyn has been traced, and was sent from a cigar store near Stilo's home.

Stilo, however, does not deny that he knew Peppe and that he is interested in the liquor traffic. The key to a safe deposit box at the banking establishment of Joseph Sessa, at 131 Union street, Brooklyn, was in his pocket when he was arrested. When searched yesterday the box contained permits for the withdrawal of five barrels of liquor from a warehouse in West street. The permits authorized Stilo to take the whiskey out on March 22, 23 and 24. He would not say whether he ever received the liquor, and the records of the warehouse are being looked up.

When Stilo was arraigned in court he was held on an affidavit which set forth that there was reason to believe he had acted in concert with others to procure the death of Peppe. Magistrate McAndrews held him for October 18, when he will be arraigned.

WOMAN DRIVER HELD IN AUTOMOBILE DEATH

Victim Also a Woman in Jersey City Accident.

Miss Jeannette Goldstein, of 123 Wilkeson avenue, Jersey City, was arrested last night on a charge of manslaughter after she had run down with her automobile and fatally injured Mrs. Mary Golden, 50 of Madison avenue, Jersey City. Mrs. Golden was crossing the street and it was believed failed to see Miss Goldstein's car. She died at Jersey City hospital.

An automobile crashed into a surface car on Broadway near 17th street yesterday morning, shaking up the passengers, and throwing from the truck Michael T. Brown, of 344 West Seventh street. Brown struck on his head and died later at Columbus hospital. Robert Roelke of 435 West Thirtieth street reported to the police that he was driver of the truck. It was held in $2,500 bail in Washington Heights court on a technical charge of homicide.

HELPED IN SLAYING; SENT TO SING SING

Youth Pleads Guilty to Second Degree Murder.

Judge Joseph F. Mulqueen in General Sessions yesterday sentenced Abraham Kaplan, 16, to from twenty years to life in Sing Sing. The boy pleaded guilty to a charge of murder in the second degree in connection with the killing of Jacob Mazura last January. The boy had been indicted with two others, one of whom is now in the death house at Sing Sing and the other awaiting trial for murder in the first degree. On account of Kaplan's youth Assistant District Attorney McDonald recommended that he be permitted to plead to second degree murder.

Mazura, who was about to return to his home in Russia, where he was killed, had accumulated $2,000, which he carried in a belt. He was decaying by Julius Riesenwasser, who is condemned to die, to a room at 123 Stanton street. There he was pined with drink and stabbed to death by Riesenwasser and his companions.

PONTON BRIDGE PLAN OVER HUDSON GIVEN UP

Lasker's Conditions Impossible, Say Projectors.

The project of building a pontoon bridge across the Hudson river, from New York to New Jersey, has been abandoned. It met with great opposition, but according to George A. Post, president of the company which backed the proposal, this was not the cause of its rejection. Mr. Post said that Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board laid down on September 15 conditions which could not be met, namely, that the company must take up or give up its option on the ships within twenty-four hours and pay for them immediately. This Mr. Post said, could not be done, as neither Congress nor the War Department had sanctioned the bridge underwriting, and the company could not buy ships until it was certain it could make use of them. The suggested price was $2,000 a ship, and the company was thinking of buying fifty ships.

RENTED BRIDAL FINERY STOLEN ON WEDDING EVE

Police Hold Trousseau and 'Full Dress Suit' as Evidence, So Ceremony Is Postponed—Two Prisoners Held in Jail.

Thieves whose hearts are as callous as a longshoreman's hands broke into the store from which Barnett Michaelson used to rent "formal fall dress evening suits" and gorgeous gowns for ladies early yesterday and put a stop to the wedding which was to have been the biggest affair the East Side has seen in years. The thieves not only stole the elegant full dress evening suit that the bridegroom was to have worn but they actually carried away the gown that Michaelson had rented to the bride, a creation guaranteed to dazzle the eyes and confound the senses.

The police arrested two men and recovered the evening suits and the gowns from a hallway in Grand street, but law compelled them to hold the property as evidence, although Michaelson appeared in Essex Market Court before Magistrate Charles E. Simms and pleaded for the discharge of the prisoners.

"Judge," he said, "I wish that these could let me go so I can get back to my evening dress suits and my gowns for the wedding which is postponed. Even the bride's gown is gone, and the poor lady can't get married without the gorgeous creation which she rented from me."

Magistrate Simms expressed his deep sympathy, but could do nothing, as the police had charge of the evidence. He held the prisoners, who said they were Joseph de Falco of 177 Hester street and Salvatore Capolunzio of 1425 New Utrecht avenue, Brooklyn, in $5,000 bail each for further examination.

While searching yesterday for drugs aboard the British freighter Helenus, in yesterday from Far Eastern ports by way of Boston, Customs Inspector Albert D. Hobson uncovered fifteen Chinese hiding in ballast tanks and other places below decks. Several were seriously ill of beri-beri. There were originally sixteen, but one was thrown overboard after leaving Boston. According to some of the Chinese, he was dead, but others said he was just dying.

The stowaways, all suffering from hunger, were taken to Ellis Island. Pong Yow, the ship's Chinese boss, was detained by the customs officials. The harbor police were asked to make a search for the body in the neighborhood of this port.

SIR HARRY SMOKES PIPE IN BALLROOM

But It Wasn't Dancing Affair, Just a Gathering of Clans; Message From Lipton.

Only one man, to Oscar's knowledge, has smoked a pipe in the ballroom of the Waldorf, and that is Sir Harry Laidler, who puffed cheerily on an enormous briar through most of the dinner given there in his honor last night by the New York Caledonian Club and other Scottish and British societies. It was a good Scots evenin' and more than one of the speeches was in strong Scotch, but the toasts were not.

Few men can turn to the toastmaster at a quarter past eleven and then to their fellow diners and keep them enchanted for the better part of an hour, but that is just what Sir Harry did last night. Just before the guest of honor was to speak Col. Walter Scott asked Duncan MacInnes, and the city's chief accountant produced a huge scrapbook of laudatory telegrams and letters which he threatened to read in their entirety.

He did read some of them, and although they came from such folk as Viscount Bryce and Sir Thomas Lipton, and nobody knows how many Daughters of Scotia, east and west, 600 hands began clapping for Sir Harry.

He looks fifteen years older than he did before the war, but the old lilt is still there, and he hadn't been on his feet more than three minutes before he was singing, and the whole room was singing with him, "It's singing that will make you cheery."

Most of it was fun, but he had a serious word too, and that was this: "There must be a union of the English speaking peoples—the world cannot go on without it. We have the same ideals, we're the same flesh and blood—we must stand together."

Other speakers were the Rev. John McNeill, Capt. Gloster Armstrong, British Consul General; the Rev. John Willams, and Albert Oliver, president of the New York Canadian Club.

15 CHINESE FOUND HIDDEN ON FREIGHTER

One Dying Stowaway Thrown Overboard, Others Say.

BELMAISON Interior Decorations

Little Turn-Top Tables With Drop Leaves Are In

stopping there just long enough to acquaint you with their usefulness and clever little tricks.

Not only is this model very good of line and pleasing of proportions, but its drop-leaves enable it to stand in the least possible amount of space when not in use.

And, further, its top turns around when the leaves are up, an amusing little feature to insure their holding tight and not sagging.

The top is of solid walnut, the base of walnut - finished wood. Height 24 1/2 in., top 21 1/2 x 18 in.

It is really amazing that Belmaison has been able to produce so useful and so pleasing a little table as this for the very small sum of $15.

GRAND PIANOS

From every standpoint—musical as well as decorative—the grand piano is the finest of pianofortes. During the last nine years, the demand for it has tripled the record of the fifty years preceding.

To make it convenient for people to compare TONE, and style and size, we have assembled in the Wanamaker Piano Salons the most inclusive showing of Grand Pianos to be seen, we believe, anywhere, in America, including—

The new CHICKERING Grand at $1,275.

The sweet SCHOMACKER Grand at $1,250.

The special LINDEMAN Grand at $765.

The 4 ft. 8 in. BRAMBACH Grand at $695.

And the celebrated KNABE Grand at $1,275.

Used pianos are accepted by us in part payment for new instruments. And convenient terms are allowed on all purchases.

100 New Overcoats at $35 For men to wear away today

We find that there is a demand for overcoats at $35. And that this demand is not being very well filled. So we set out to fill it RIGHT—although the price is low for Burlington Arcade clothing. We can fill the needs of 100 men for good overcoats at $35, today.

These overcoats will please you even more than the price. Some are single-breasted box overcoats in heather, gray and brown shades, quarter-lined with good silk serge. Some are double-breasted ulsters, made of a fine overcoat overcoating.

Young Men's Overcoats, $35 to $85

Town ulsters of light colored tweeds and herringbones with fancy backs. Big, roomy Raglans of soft, fleecy English fabrics with large overplaids, belted all around, buttoned with big leather buttons. Box coats in dark browns and grays, just right for October in New York. Sizes 33 to 40.

Young Men's Suits at $35

Don't think of these suits in terms of the usual suit at $35. Just as a golfer sometimes makes a "birdie" at golf by doing a hole in better than par, so we have, in these suits, done a little better than our best at $35.

There are four single-breasted models, and one double-breasted. All the new Fall shades of brown and gray herringbone chevrons (very smart), blue, gray and black hair line striped cassimeres, fancy mixtures in many shades and patterns. Sizes 33 to 40; full and half alpaca lined.

SPECIAL—1-pair and 2-pair trousers suits at $43.50.

3,000 Men's Shirts at $1.35

If we marked them $2.50—or even $3—you would buy them. The very, very good taste designs will hold you on sight. Then, if you will feel the woven madras and the fine percale, and note the excellent workmanship and finish, and the good buttons (which one manufacturer said he wouldn't put on any shirt to sell under $5)—you will wonder how it is done. And you'll pick out a dozen to take home.

Blanket Bathrobes are only $5

Fine feeling, these cold mornings, to wrap one's self inside a good Beacon cloth bathrobe. These button to the neck, and have girle at waist. Small, medium and large sizes; in gray, blue and brown designs.

Men's Sweaters, $10 (last year $16.50)

100; all wool worsted coat and V neck sweaters, in heather, navy blue, maroon and brown. Some coat sweaters with collar, $10.50. And, at $17.50, some Jumbo knit heavy weight coat sweaters which sold a year ago for $27.50.

French Soft Hats, small shapes, $7
